BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA
MERIT BADGE SERIES

DISABILITIES AWARENESS

"Enhancing our youths' competitive edge through merit badges"

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA®

Requirements

1. Do the following:
 - a. Define and discuss with your counselor the following disabilities awareness terms: disability, accessibility, adaptation, accommodation, invisible disability, person-first language, and inclusion.
 - b. Explain why proper disability etiquette is important, and how it may differ depending on the specific disability. Give three examples.
2. Visit an agency that works with people with physical, mental, emotional, or educational disabilities. Collect and read information about the agency's activities. Learn about opportunities its members have for training, employment, and education. Discuss what you have learned with your counselor.
3. Do TWO of the following:
 - a. Talk with a Scout who has a disability and learn about the Scout's experiences taking part in Scouting activities and earning different merit badges. Discuss what you have learned with your counselor.
 - b. Talk with an individual who has a disability and learn about this person's experiences and the activities in which this person likes to participate. Discuss what you have learned with your counselor.
 - c. Learn how people with disabilities take part in a particular adaptive sport or recreational activity. Discuss what you have learned with your counselor.
 - d. Learn about independent living aids such as service animals, canes, and augmentative communication devices such as captioned telephones and videophones. Discuss with your counselor how people use such aids.

- e. Plan or participate in an activity that helps others understand what a person with a visible or invisible disability experiences. Discuss what you have learned with your counselor.

4. Do EITHER option A or option B:

Option A. Visit TWO of the following locations and take notes about the accessibility to people with disabilities. In your notes, give examples of five things that could be done to improve upon the site and five things about the site that make it friendly to people with disabilities. Discuss your observations with your counselor.

- Your school
- Your place of worship
- A Scouting event or campsite
- A public exhibit or attraction (such as a theater, museum, or park)

Option B. Visit TWO of the following locations and take notes while observing features and methods that are used to accommodate people with invisible disabilities. While there, ask staff members to explain any accommodation features that may not be obvious. Note anything you think could be done to better accommodate people who have invisible disabilities. Discuss your observations with your counselor.

- Your school
- Your place of worship
- A Scouting event or campsite
- A public exhibit or attraction (such as a theater, museum, or park)

5. Explain what advocacy is. Do ONE of the following advocacy activities:

- a. Present a counselor-approved disabilities awareness program to a Cub Scout pack or other group. During your presentation, explain and use person-first language.
- b. Find out about disabilities awareness education programs in your school or school system, or contact a disability advocacy agency. Volunteer with a program or agency for eight hours.

- c. Using resources such as disability advocacy agencies, government agencies, the internet (with your parent's permission), and news magazines, learn about myths and misconceptions that influence the general public's understanding of people with disabilities. List 10 myths and misconceptions about people with disabilities and learn the facts about each myth. Share your list with your counselor, then use it to make a presentation to a Cub Scout pack or other group.
6. Make a commitment to your merit badge counselor describing what you will do to show a positive attitude about and toward people with disabilities and to encourage positive attitudes among others. Discuss how your awareness has changed as a result of what you have learned.
7. Name five professions that provide services to people with disabilities. Pick one that interests you and find out the education, training, and experience required for this profession. Discuss what you learn with your counselor, and tell why this profession interests you.

Books

Fiction

Many of these novels are classics available in several editions and formats including audio and large print.

Burnett, Frances Hodgson. The Secret Garden. HarperCollins, 2010. A lonely boy in a wheelchair misbehaves until his orphaned cousin moves in. A locked garden brings them closer as they transform the garden and themselves.

Byars, Betsy. The Summer of the Swans. Puffin Books, 2004. A teenager gains new insight into herself and her family when her brother with cognitive disabilities goes missing.

De Angeli, Marguerite. The Door in the Wall. Yearling Books, 1998. In 14th-century England, a boy with physical disabilities proves his courage.

Dorris, Michael. See Behind Trees. Disney-Hyperion, 1999. An American Indian boy with a special gift to “see” beyond his limited eyesight journeys with an old warrior to a land of mystery and beauty.

Draper, Sharon. Out of My Mind. Atheneum Books, 2012. When a girl with cerebral palsy who cannot walk or talk is given a device that lets her “speak,” she surprises everyone around her.

Flegg, Aubrey. The Cinnamon Tree. O’Brien Press, 2000. When a land mine explodes beneath her, Yola Abonda must learn to walk again after the amputation of her leg.

Hoopmann, Kathy. Blue Bottle Mystery: An Asperger Adventure. Jessica Kingsley Publishers, 2006. A boy with Asperger’s syndrome and his friend travel an exciting fantasy adventure when they discover an old bottle.

Janover, Caroline. How Many Days Until Tomorrow? Woodbine House, 2000. A boy with dyslexia spends an island summer with his grandparents, developing strengths and discovering new talents.

Konigsburg, E.L. The View from Saturday. Aladdin Paperbacks, 1998. Four unique students attract the attention of their paraplegic teacher, who chooses them to represent their class in the Academic Bowl.

Lord, Cynthia. Rules. Scholastic Press, 2008. A sister helps her brother with autism understand how to live in a world that does not always have compassion.

Martin, Ann M. A Corner of the Universe. Scholastic, 2004. After a school for people with developmental disabilities closes, a family must deal with a child-like young man whose existence they have denied for years.

Mikaelsen, Ben. Petey. Hyperion Books, 2010. A man with cerebral palsy is misdiagnosed and institutionalized. Sixty years later, he befriends a boy and shares with him the joy of life.

Philbrick, Rodman. Freak the Mighty. Scholastic Paperbacks, 2001. Two boys unite to become a powerful team, using their unique, differently abled talents as their strengths.

Polacco, Patricia. The Junkyard Wonder. Philomel Books, 2010. A teacher inspires her class of students with special needs to greater heights, and discovers hidden genius.

Taylor, Theodore. The Cay. Yearling Books, 2003. During World War II, an adolescent boy, blinded by a blow on the head, and an old man are stranded on a tiny island where the boy gains a new kind of vision.

Winkler, Henry. Niagara Falls, or Does It? Turtleback Books, 2003. In a series inspired by the author's own experiences with undiagnosed dyslexia, a fourth-grader decides to "show" how he spent his summer instead of writing the usual essay.

Nonfiction

Abramovitz, Melissa. Multiple Sclerosis. Lucent Books, 2010. Offers insights into the neurological disease known as MS, what causes it, and how people live with it.

Autism Speaks. Leading the Way: Autism-Friendly Youth Organization Guide, 2013. A guide to help community organizations make their programs more inclusive of children with autism.

Corman, Richard. I Am Proud: The Athletes of Special Olympics. Barnes & Noble Books, 2003. Portrays athletes' dignity, grace, and joy in competition.

Dougherty, Terri. Epilepsy. Lucent Books, 2009. Explains types of seizures and their triggers, and provides a historical perspective on treatments.

Flodin, Mickey. Signing for Kids: The Fun Way for Anyone to Learn American Sign Language. Perigee Books, 2007. An introduction to the expressive language used by many deaf people to speak with their hands.

Floyd, Ingrid. Opening the Gate: Stories and Activities About Athletes With Disabilities. CreateSpace, 2013. An introduction to the world of wheelchairs and prosthetics, with outstanding athletes recounting the experiences that helped them participate effectively in sports and led them to the top of their athletic careers.

Freedman, Russell. Out of Darkness: The Story of Louis Braille. Clarion Books, 1999. A biography of the 19th-century Frenchman who developed a system of raised dots on paper that enabled others who are blind to read and write.

Kent, Deborah, and Kathryn A. Quinlan. Extraordinary People With Disabilities. Children's Press, 1997. A collection of biographies of 48 famous people who made great accomplishments despite their disability.

Kling, Andrew A. Cerebral Palsy. Lucent Books, 2012. Discusses the incurable disorder that strikes about two in 1,000 infants yearly in the United States.

Krueger, Tira. Taking Tourette Syndrome to School. JayJo Books, 2002. Portrays Tourette syndrome from the point of view of a child who has the condition.

Lauren, Jill. That's Like Me! Stories About Amazing People With Learning Differences. Star Bright Books, 2009. Stories of 16 adults and young people who overcome by focusing on their strengths instead of their learning disabilities.

Meyer, Donald, ed. Views From Our Shoes: Growing Up With a Brother or Sister With Special Needs. Woodbine House, 1997. Children ages 4 to 18 share their experiences of having a sibling with a disability.

Naff, Clayton Farris, ed. Muscular Dystrophy. Greenhaven Press, 2011. Explains the causes and treatments of muscular dystrophy.

Oleksy, Walter G. Christopher Reeve. Greenhaven Press, 1999. Discusses the life-altering accident of the actor known for his role as Superman and for his efforts on behalf of people with spinal cord injuries.

Paquette, Penny Hutchins, and Cheryl Gerson Tuttle. Learning Disabilities: The Ultimate Teen Guide. Scarecrow Press, 2006. Gives teenagers dealing with learning disabilities tools for coping with the obstacles they face.

Rogers, Dale Evans. Angel Unaware. Revell, 2007. The story of a child with Down syndrome born to celebrities Roy Rogers and Dale Evans.

Stern, Judith, and Uzi Ben-Ami. Many Ways to Learn: A Kid's Guide to LD. Magination Press, 2010. Describes different learning disabilities and the many things children with LD can do to reach their goals.

Verdick, Elizabeth, and Elizabeth Reeve. The Survival Guide for Kids With Autism Spectrum Disorder (and Their Parents). Free Spirit Publishing, 2012. Helps young people with autism spectrum disorders understand their condition.

Vujicic, Nick. Life Without Limits. Crown Publishing, 2010. Portrays a man born without arms or legs who lives a rich, fulfilling, independent life as an internationally successful motivational speaker.
