A Self-Evaluation Guide For Successful District Operation

To Be Used in Conjunction With Journey to Excellence

SIX MAJOR TASKS FOR VOLUNTEER SUCCESS

Council volunteers and professional staff members strengthen district committees and commissioner staffs with six major tasks—the six things they must do to make a volunteer system work.

Define Responsibilities

Volunteers must know what is expected for them to be successful. Carefully define, in writing, the responsibilities for each position. Use Commissioner Responsibility Cards, No. 34265; District Committee Responsibility Cards, No. 34266; and A Handbook for District Operations, No. 34739, to assist you.

Select and Recruit

Fit the right person to the job. Consider each prospect's skills, interests, and other relevant factors. Consider the variety of motivating factors for people getting involved in Scouting. Use all the prescribed steps in recruiting district volunteers and use the recruiting resources of the BSA. Helpful recruiting resources include Selecting District People, No. 34512; A Handbook for District Operations, No. 34739; and the District Nominating Committee Worksheet, No. 513-332.

Orient and Train

Provide each person with prompt orientation and adequate training on their individual assignment to be successful. Use the District Committee Training Workshop, No. 34160, and Administration of Commissioner Service, No. 34501.

Coach Volunteers

Provide ongoing coaching as needed. Build a volunteer's confidence and self-esteem. Help conserve a volunteer's time. Coaching should be provided by the appropriate committee chair or professional.

Recognize Achievement

Recognition must be sincere, timely, and earned. Use the great variety of formal BSA recognition items, but also be creative with frequent locally devised thank-yous. Even more effective may be the personal "pat on the back" for a job well done. Recognize volunteers on a face-to-face basis, from a person of status, and preferably in front of the volunteer's peers.

Evaluate Performance

Help district volunteers regularly evaluate how they're doing. Use the Self-Evaluation for Unit Commissioners in the Commissioner Fieldbook for Unit Service, No. 33621; A Self-Evaluation Guide for Successful District Operation, No. 34207; and the "How Will You Know When You Have Done A Good Job?" section in A Handbook for District Operations, No. 34739.

PURPOSE OF THIS GUIDE

District Scouters want their time and talent to have a maximum benefit to youth. Using proven practices and methods will help fulfill this desire. The Journey to Excellence program is your starting point. Check how you scored on the criteria, and how you scored overall. This guide should be used in conjunction with Journey to Excellence, as it drills even deeper into your performance as a district.

A thoughtful review of the questions in this self-evaluation guide will reveal areas of operation where changes and improvements are necessary. Once these areas have been defined, they should be placed in an order of priority. Most of these changes and improvements can be carried out by the district. Some changes may require the help of others in the council.

As you participate in this self-analysis, keep in mind that the evaluation is intended to help your district and council identify areas of need and provide solutions. Its usefulness depends, in part, upon your objectivity, which precludes defending a district's practice or glossing over any question. An affirmative response to a statement means that all parts or factors in the statement meet the standards. A negative response might prompt an explanation as to what portion of the standards needs improvement. Take the time to assure an answer that reflects the true situation in your district.

The following steps are suggested for completing this evaluation:

- The council president (or vice president for district operation), council executive, field director, district chair, and district executive determine who should be involved in making the evaluation. This may be simply the district Key 3 or it may include others in the district and council leadership structure.
- 2. Those making the evaluation are given assignments for appropriate sections of the guide and related information. A deadline is set for a return of the completed section.
- 3. When all parts are completed and returned, the information is transferred to a master copy by the district executive.
- 4. The master evaluation is reviewed and substantial agreement reached by the district Key 3.
- 5. Methods or practices needing improvement or change are listed in priority order.
- 6. The council president (or vice president for district operation), council executive, and field director are invited to meet with the district chair and district executive and review the profile.
- Agreement is reached on those needs that the district can fulfill on its own initiative and those needs that might require help from the council.
- 8. A program of action is launched to make the improvements and changes with the assistance of the council where necessary.

JOURNEY TO EXCELLENCE STANDARDS

Standards for Journey to Excellence Awards for units, districts, and councils are reviewed annually by volunteers and professionals and are mutually accepted and approved. Standards for these awards are published on separate worksheets each year.

One of the functions of a district is to help units be successful in operating a quality program for its youth. The percent of units that provide a quality program is an indicator of the effectiveness of a district and its personnel.
