

KODIAK

Kodiak is a leadership development course for older teens offered by a troop, crew, district, or council in a six-day format or over two three-day weekends. It is based on the servant leader concept and is delivered while on a trek, trip, or other activity. It teaches five leadership skills called commissions using illustrations found in nature.

A new Kodiak Syllabus, No. 34193, is available from the National Distribution Center to help you plan and run your next Kodiak course.

KODIAK COURSES

- Are based on servant leadership
- Are based on nature
- Are overlaid on a trip, trek, or activity
- Are offered by units, districts, and councils
- Are relevant to teens
- Use adult and teen facilitators
- Are done so leadership skills are internalized to last for a lifetime
- Are FUN!

Visit the Kodiak Web site at www.kodiak-bsa.org.

Each region offers Kodiak/Kodiak X course director conferences and other help to get you started, so contact your region today.

Kodiak has been reviewed by our military service academies and the U.S. Marine Corps Leadership Academy and given a big thumbs up!

Not your normal course, it is done while on a trek or activity!

VENTURING · BSA®

